My name is Claire Harvey, and I am the NA Sales Director for the Chocolate organization within Cargill's Food Ingredients division. I wanted to share the fantastic experience our team had with Greg Warren as part of our annual kick off meeting, which was conducted virtually this year.

Greg Warren is awesome! I can't say enough positive things about his ability to bring authentic comedy and positivity to a corporate event.

I have personally had the chance to see Greg perform in person (pre-pandemic). I wanted to have something fun, light-hearted and that could make my team laugh!

Greg performed a great session completely remote for a group of 75 people plus---with everyone on mute. He crushed it. I received great feedback from the team that it was a perfect event and Greg made people laugh. In a virtual work environment, it was almost like having him in a room with all our colleagues but highly personalized.

I would highly recommend considering a 'comedy hour' as a virtual option to lift spirits and bring some humor to the virtual world. Given his previous experience in the corporate world, he is a match for customizing what is needed for any corporate event or team. I would highly recommend Greg Warren for any entertainment—in person or virtually.

Regards,
