

COLAB

The Coalition of Labor, Agriculture & Business

October 2018

I serve as the executive director of a large and unique non-profit sector organization comprised of organized labor, business and agriculture. Every year we host 800 guests at a fund-raising event featuring a comedy show.

This year, one of our featured entertainers was Greg Warren. He was outstanding!

Our audience, by virtue of its extremely unique composition, is very hard to please. Yet, Greg's act was so well received that I was immediately inundated with requests from audience members to have him back real soon!

Greg related to our extremely diverse crowd in an extraordinary and personal way and he accomplished the same without the use of jokes or words that made anyone in our audience uncomfortable. He is a therefore a class act and a stand out among comics today.

I would heartily recommend booking Greg Warren for your function. You will certainly be delighted with the results.

Sincerely,

Andy Caldwell
Executive Director
