To whom it may concern:

It is with great pleasure that I write to recommend Greg Warren for your organization's event. I can personally attest to his professionalism and quality of his performance. On November 8, 2022, Mr. Warren provided the opening experience for the Kirkwood School District's professional development which focused specifically on the wellness of our staff. The audience included staff from throughout our organization, including teachers from all levels, the administrative team and support staff.

In the conversation we had prior to the event, Mr. Warren actively gathered feedback from me to ensure he met our needs and goals. As a result, he provided a fun, engaging experience that allowed us to appropriately begin our day in a lighthearted way. We heard great feedback from all of our staff in attendance and would welcome him back if the opportunity presented itself.

Without hesitation, I would encourage any organization to engage with Mr. Warren and believe his comedy would add value to any event. Please let me know if I can provide any additional information that would be helpful.

Thank you,
